Family Behaviors that Increase Your LGBTQ Child’s Health & Well-Being

Research from the Family Acceptance Project® found more than 50 family accepting behaviors that help protect your lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender and queer-identified (LGBTQ) child against health risks like depression, suicide and illegal drug use and help to increase your LGBTQ child’s self-esteem, health and well-being. A little change makes a difference in decreasing your child’s isolation and risk and giving them hope that their family will be there for them.

Family support saves lives!

BEHAVIORS THAT HELP…

- Tell your LGBTQ / gender diverse child that you love them
- Support your child’s gender expression
- Talk with your child or foster child about their LGBTQ identity and listen respectfully — even when you feel uncomfortable or think that being gay or transgender is wrong
- Require other family members to treat your child with respect
- Show affection when your child tells you or when you learn that your child is LGBTQ
- Ask your child if — and how — you can help them tell other people about their LGBTQ identity
- Welcome your child’s LGBTQ friends to your home
- Bring your child to LGBTQ groups and events
- Get accurate information to educate yourself about your child’s sexual orientation, gender identity and expression
- Find a congregation that welcomes your LGBTQ / gender diverse child and family
- Participate in family support groups and activities for families with LGBTQ and gender diverse children to get support for yourself and your family and guidance for supporting your LGBTQ child
- Use your child’s chosen name and the pronoun that matches their gender identity
- Tell your LGBTQ / gender diverse child that you’re proud of them
- Tell your LGBTQ / gender diverse child that you will be there for them — even if you don’t fully understand
- Talk with your religious leaders to help your congregation become supportive of LGBTQ people
- Stand up for your child when others mistreat them because of their LGBTQ identity or gender expression — at home, at school, in your congregation and in the community
- Speak openly about your child’s LGBTQ identity
- Welcome your child’s LGBTQ partner to family events and activities
- Connect your child with LGBTQ adult role models
- Express enthusiasm for your child having an LGBTQ / gender diverse partner when they’re ready to date
- Believe that your child can be a happy LGBTQ adult — and tell them they will have a good life

The more of these behaviors that parents and families do, the better your LGBTQ child’s health & well-being
